Somebody.

Somebody's courting somebody, Somewhere or other, to night, mebody's whispering to somebody, Under this clear moonlight.

Near the bright river's flow, Running so still and slow, Talking so soft and low, She sits with somebody.

Pacing the ocean's shore, Edged by the foaming roar, Words, never breathed before, Sound sweet to somebody.

Under the maple tree, Deep though the shadow be, Plain enough they can see-Bright eyes has somebody.

No one sits up to wait, Though she is out so late-All know she's at the gate, Talking with somebody.

Tip-toe to parlor door-Two shadows on the floor-Moonlight reveals no more-Susy and somebody.

Two sitting side by side, Float with the ebbing tide, "Thus dearest, may we glide Through life," says somebody.

Somewhere somebody Makes love to somebody, To-night.

- A good story is told of Berkley Crayon and Lord Alvanley, when an accident happened to their carriage. The former getting out to thrash the footman, saw that he was an old man and said:

"Your age protects you," while Alvanley, who had advanced towards the postillion with the same intention, seeing he was an Shoes and Cloth Gaiters; all sizes of Youths' and Boys' Boots and Shoes. with the same intention, seeing he was an atheletic young fellow, turned from him, saying in his waggish way: "Your youth protects you."

— A young lady once hinted to a gentle-man that her thimble was worn out, and asked what reward she merited for her inof a thimble, on which the following lines were engraved.

"I send a thimble, for fingers nimble, Which I hope will fit when you try it: It will last you long, if half as strong As the hint which you gave me to buy it."
